BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA AND TOMATO BITTERS.
LIVER Complaint, can be cured without resorting to mercury, if you will only use Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters.
"To Dr. Frederick Brown, Proprietor of the Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters:
"This certifies that my wife was severely afflicted with the Liver Complaint and her health was very seriously undermined. Having tried various prescriptions, without success, she was fortunately induced to try your Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters; her health soon began to improve, and she is now much better in health, and would advise any one in ill health to use them.
Yours, respectfully,
Portland, Me. June 5, 1844. CHAS. CARLL.

GOING TO SEA. Masters of Vessels, on going to sea, particularly on long voyages, if they value their health, or their crews', should never leave the wharf without one or two dozen of Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters. It is about the only medicine they need. It purifies the blood, and completely cures or prevents which alone is sufficient recommendation; but where persons are going from warm to cold climates, it is of the highest importance. There are many masters of vessels who say they had rather be without their whole outfit, than be without Brown's Sarsaparilla.
BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA AND TOMATO BITTERS.

Here is another recommendation from a well known captain of a ship, which speaks for itself.
Captain Joseph Holley, (of the whole ship Erie) says, Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters are invaluable to all seafaring men. They should never be without it. Nor sea men alone, but all persons, in discovery which render liable to, particularly diseases brought on by living a long time on salt provisions. I have used it on my last voyage, and do know from experience, in my self, scurvy is almost immediately cured by it. Take any person, and send him to sea for a voyage without one dozen bottles of Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters, being on board, of your ship.
Those who know me, know my character in point. Captain Holley is as well known as any other man who sails from New Bedford or Fairhaven.
Post Office, Edgartown, Mass.
Dec. 1, 1843.

Mr F. Brown.—Sir: Will you have the kindness to forward me a dozen more bottles of your Sarsaparilla. Central whaf, opposite Messrs Hewins & Flagg's Store, 6 dozen bottles sarsaparilla and tomato bitters. A Capt. Jos. Hussey, of this place, has taken more than 1 now have on hand to supply him with, I therefore send for more. I am confined to my house this day; cannot send them up to the Energy. Should I delay sending the order until to-morrow's mail, it will be to the Western Ocean, and then by the Energy. By complying with the above request you will oblige.

PARR'S LIFE-PILLS—SUMMER MEDICINE.
THIS popular medicine should be taken by every one valuing their health. No matter how well you may feel, the change of season imperatively demands a cleansing of the system. Parr's Life Pills are perfectly calculated for being taken with safety at this changeful period. Being composed of the best Spanish, Portuguese, German and French Drugs, that this popular medicine is put up with weapons of the utmost nicety which has so beautifully provided them with a neat book, with engravings, of the Life and Times of GEORGE PARR, the Shepherd of Tisbury, who has been a subject of curious speculation, to those who have wondered in what way he could have lived to see so many of those acquainted with physiology, have deduced from the history of Thomas Parr, that the use of a Herbal medicine was instrumental in his long life, and the causes which led to the number of his days. As this account is completely in accordance with the laws of Life and Testament, such deduction is reduced to a certainty.
The subscribers having by purchase become the proprietors of this medicine, now offer it as a valuable remedy for all those who have been injured by improper or mercurial treatment, or who, by their sedentary habits, have allowed their constitutions to become deranged, whom they number all the principal Druggists.

WRIGHT'S
Indian Vegetable Pills,
OR INDIAN PURGATIVE.
THOUGH no medicines have been before the public for a much longer period than Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, yet none stands a firm hold upon popular estimation. The thousands that have used them throughout the length and breadth of the Republic, all bear cheerful testimony to their thorough efficacy and mild operation, when employed in the most distressing diseases which flesh is heir to. To those, however, who have not used them, who are now suffering in the incipient or advanced stages of disease, and who are looking round for weapons wherewith to combat that dire enemy, Dyspepsia, we would say, be not satisfied with the theory and principle of a course of medical treatment, before they commence it, but choose necessary to make a few preliminary remarks on this invaluable medicine.
The theory of disease on which WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded is this, viz: That there is only one primary cause of all the disorders which afflict the human family, and that is corrupt humors or, in other words, impurity of Blood. This principle is now universally admitted; that it may be a fact be said to be sustained by an universality of practice. The few dissenters constituting but a very feeble minority. It is needless, therefore, to discuss the soundness of this theory in this place and connection.
THE ONE DISEASE PRINCIPLE being admitted, the mode of attack proposed by all practitioners becomes the same, viz: Purgation. But many of the so called specifics now in use, are not, in reality, more than a mere purgative; they are calomel, jalap, Cathartic, Drastic, or Expectorant. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills combine all these properties, and are therefore calculated to attack the primary cause of disease, and by a mild, harmonious and combined operation, to expel it radically from the system. Their effect is almost universal and it is astonishing for its immediate efficacy. Both sexes and all ages may employ them, according to the direction without fear, while they are unrivalled as a family medicine. They are comfortable, they are perfect in their operation on the system.
The ORIGIN of this invaluable medicine entitles it to the confidence of the public. It was from the aborigines we approach to nature, in our researches after truth in science and art, the more complete will it be found to be. Nature, in her wild state, enjoyed a perfect condition of the Indian Tribes of this continent whether exposed to the frosts and storms of the North, or the heats and rains of the Southern climes. Houseless, unprotected, exposed to every atmospheric change, every extreme of the seasons, dwelling in the forests, in marshes and by the margins of unhealthy pools and swamps—they yet enjoy an almost total immunity from disease, while the white man, who enjoys all the comforts of civilization, with its attendant arts, is as much inferior to the savage in physical vigor, as he is superior to him in intellectual acquisitions. How does this happen? Simply because, behind the highest science, he relies upon that divine instinct which impels him to seek from the produce of the field and forest those remedies which Nature and Nature's God has bounteously provided for the relief of suffering, for the mitigation and cure of disease—sowing them broad cast on every hill and valley. Let those who impiously arraign the good Creator of Heaven and Earth, at one point with a street Indian Doctor, who, in his wigwam, on his couch of sickness, turn from the little herbs of nature, and study the secrets of nature, and they will soon, if they are candid, find a Medicine adapted to each for every wound—a remedy for all who seek one.
These Pills, as we before remarked operate by purgation—but they combine with this operation certain properties, and making the invalid, in the homely but expressive phrase, "a new skin" by regulating the Secretions, and by PREVENT CONSUMPTION, which insidiously attacks the Lungs, producing that dry, hacking cough so painful to the sufferer. Cutaneous eruptions, showing itself upon the skin in eruptions or blotches; whether the Kidneys or the Bowels be affected—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are equally efficacious in the cure of disease. They expectorant, cathartic, sudorific and diuretic qualities enable them to take hold of every form of disease.
The perfect safety of the medicine is another all important quality, and one which has contributed more than any thing else to its extension and popularity.
In a word, this medicine commends itself strongly to the patronage of the public, and its use bids fair to become, before long, ALMOST UNIVERSAL.
CAUTION:
The citizens of New England are respectfully informed that a spurious article is now offered for sale, by which Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills have earned by their astonishing goodness, a good Counterfeiters are now industriously engaged in palming on the unsuspecting a VALUELESS and perhaps dangerous medicine, under the same of Indian Vegetable Pills.

DR. SMITH'S "Surgical Indian Vegetable Pills" have been used in the Eleanor-St. Debtor's Prison with uncommon satisfaction, and I am ready to make affidavit to the spoken of with more interest by the sick than any other pills. JAS. L. MCKEY, Late Sheriff.
TAN EXTRAORDINARY CURE!
I have to record an instance of unparalleled suffering, which I have been a witness to, and which had not Dr. Smith's "Sacred Indian Vegetable Pills" come to my relief, I should, in all probability, have died a victim to the most intense pain. Mrs. Gardner, of Hanover-st, Boston, who was attacked with fever, which caused with great violence. I took many prescriptions, but without getting relief, I was in a state of despair. Mrs. Gardner (who is half civil remember with tears) advised me to use these Sugar Pills, which I took in large doses a few days, when the fever left me, and I continued these pills in small doses, about five weeks, which my health was restored, my system was thoroughly purified, and my general health improved.
I am certain I owe my life, under Providence, to the use of these pills. C. N. PARK, New York.
[From Jas. M. Tharier, Esq., late of the U. S. Navy.]
I have been afflicted for many years with a weakness in the bowels, costiveness and difficulty of breathing. I purchased one box of your medicine, though I had taken many prescriptions. Through the advice of a friend, I procured Dr. Smith's Patent Sugared Pills, which I taken, and they have not only relieved, but entirely cured my complaints. My wife also tried them with the most happy effects. I believe them the best medicine in the world.

PERFECT CURE OF WORMS.
Our little girl, 6 years old, has suffered all the worst stages of worms; and we never found an effectual cure, until we administered Dr Smith's Sugar Pills, which our little girl took without the least reluctance, on doses of two at a time; and we never witnessed such a change in so short a time. The pills brought out the worms in great numbers, and we never suspected, it is now in joyous health. We have also found the greatest benefit from their use.

women. As if women required to be sugar-plummed into action by being walled off from the rest of the world, and like children marshalled into 'armies'—having 'ladies' magazines, 'ladies' petitions, &c. Why not sink the lady in the human soul formed after the image of God? However, I will not find fault with so unimportant a feature in so good a movement.

Let us, then, my sisters, try to forget our vineships, and let the invigorating truth so refreshingly brought out by our late eloquent lecturer, that there are 'as many homely women as men,' and of which I think we have hardly forgotten a 'tenkring sense,' produce its due effect upon us, and animate us with a desire to possess something more than the mere external graces of life,—to be something more than 'vine,' and to do something more than 'trail.'—Let the poets,—

"That write the pretty poetry
What makes the women cry," write and sing on, and besprinkle us with their nonsense: as much as they choose, but while we regret a weakness to their folly, let us not be poetized out of womanhood, and while we endeavor to remember the aforesaid wholesome truth, let us endeavor to forget the 'sphere' marked out for us by the poet and the sentimentalist, and to fill that opened to us by our conscience and our God.'

Mademoiselle Claret who had been turning and twisting during the whole of this harrangue, now looked as if she were using her utmost endeavors to 'conjugate,' and as it she would be heartily glad to be really, as well as figuratively 'used up' if she could thereby escape from the present company. There was no necessity now for her dragging up a blush from the 'vasty deep' of olden times, for she was steeped to the lips in sadness enough.

Encouragement for the Whigs to Work.

The Whig executive committee of Pennsylvania have examined the return of votes given in that State for members of Congress and find that the popular vote of that great State on members of Congress is in favor of the Whigs by four thousand seven hundred and eighty one votes.—Upon the election of Gov. the locos urged their State politics and their local affairs, but on the question of Members of Congress the question of National policy was brought nearer home and the result is as above stated. Here is a case which furnishes encouragement to the whig cause.

The same cause should operate in Maine.—Many men undoubtedly voted for the loco candidate for Governor who are in favor of sustaining the protective policy advocated by the whigs. They know that the whole course and history of Mr Polk show that he is opposed to the protective policy. They know that if his policy could be carried into effect, the industry of the North would be paralyzed, free labor go unrewarded and every effort made to set up Southern interests against the interests of the whole people.—They know that Mr Polk has no feelings in common with the great industrious masses of the Union and that his introduction to the Presidential chair would be the sign for a series of disastrous experiments, ruinously effecting the whole business of the country.

They know that a great struggle is now going on to increase the slave power in the Union and to throw the power of the government into the hands of those who are at war with the great principles for which our political fathers toiled and prayed. They know that the party leaders of the North have gone into the support of Mr Polk in hope of reaping a share of the spoils and not from any honest convictions that the course he and his supporters will adopt will contribute to the general welfare of the people. Now we cannot suppose that these men will appear at the polls and vote for Polk electors—Strong as are party ties, honest convictions are stronger. The men we allude to expect only such advantages from the successful party as are to be shared in common by the whole people. They are not office-seeking men and having a common interest only they will not be so lost to all propriety as to elevate to posts of influence those who will disregard the welfare of the country. We have hope that these men will either not deem it advisable to cast their votes or will vote for whig electors.

The Whigs of Maine in every village and hamlet, every log cabin and camp should feel that the Presidential election involves the great questions of home labor, of just government, of true republicanism and the prosperity, happiness and freedom of the people. The Whigs have great cause of hope and confidence. They see that the prosperity of Maine is deeply involved in the policy the government shall pursue.—They see their opponents shrinking back from the responsibility of voting for Mr. Polk and his policy, because his triumph would be disastrous to the labor and business of the country, and in such a case the defeat of their party is less to be deplored than the destruction of industry. The Whigs of Maine then should take courage, appear at the polls and bring out a full phalanx. Some of the Liberty party men, since the course of Mr. Birney has become understood have declared to us that they will not vote for him. Let then, the Whigs crowd up to the polls and success may yet in Maine crown their efforts with success. A full Whig vote is eminently desirable and may prove eminently efficacious in producing a happy result.

☞ The New York Herald states that several counterfeiters have been arrested in that City, among them one well known fugitive from justice in this State by the name of McCollister formerly of Freedom. McCollister had bills of $5 and $20 on the Bangor Bank, Yarmouth, Massachusetts, in his possession. They will all probably be tried for forgery.

☞ The City Marshal informs that any information lodged with him of hogs running at large accompanied with evidence of the ownership of such hogs, will be immediately attended to and the heavy penalties of the city ordinances rigidly enforced. He thinks that a little attention to this matter will put an effectual stop to the nuisance of hogs running at large and doing damage.

☞ We understand that some person on the West side of the stream on Monday night shot one of the drove of hogs that the owners turn out into the streets to the great annoyance of our citizens. As no person pretends to own hogs which are large, of course no one will think of claiming damages in this case.

☞ The law of explosive compounds, as ascertained by experiments, authorises the statement that ten pounds of gunpowder as at present manufactured, will throw a ball three miles; six thousand tons would not throw it one yard farther, nor would the most dangerous and concentrated chemical compounds project the ball one half so far, however unlimited the quantity used might be, because their explosiveness being instantaneous, the effect is more upon the gun than on the missile.

☞ We commence to day upon our first page an article from the pen of one of the good women of our city, suggested by the present aspect of the Temperance cause in this city. The article, we think, will be read with pleasure, and its strongly suggestive points are calculated to produce a good effect. We thank the author for the article.

☞ The 'Democrat' wishes us to state that some of its party took up one thousand dollars last week offered them by a Whig. They did so after three days toil. Another thousand dollars were immediately offered by a Whig that Clay would be elected, but the Locos after all their bragging had 'no heart' to take it up. They were afraid undoubtedly they should lose their money. They have done bragging now loud enough for any Whig to hear them.

☞ A Company of Ioway Indians are giving a series of exhibitions of Indian life and manners in London. The extensive grounds at Vauxhall Gardens afford a fine opportunity for the Chiefs to appear on horseback and give vivid representations of hunting, fighting, shooting and other pursuits of the Native prairie.

☞ There was a fine rain in this vicinity yesterday.

☞ A company has been formed at Paris to bring to that city a supply of sea water for baths.

HAVERHILL, Mass. Oct. 23d, 1844.

Dear Sir,—At the request of some of our Liberty Party friends in this place, I enclose for publication in your next paper a statement of their reasons for abandoning James G. Birney, which they are desirous of presenting to their brethren elsewhere. They wished to send it to you through some individual known to you, in order that you might be assured of the genuineness of the document. It is gratifying to find that they are opening their eyes to the true position of their party, and their duty to the country at the approaching election.

Very respectfully, yours,
JAMES H. DUNCAN.

J. T. BUCKINGHAM.

To the Editor of the Courier.

Sir,—The Undersigned citizens of Haverhill, Mass., have been active members of the Liberty Party, and our efforts in the cause of Abolition have been well known in this vicinity. In advocating the election of James G. Birney, we supposed we were acting in accordance with moral duty, and promoting the well-being of the slave and his master. But by recent acceptance of a nomination from the miscalled Democratic party, to a seat in the Michigan Legislature, and his expression that there was more danger at another term of Texas by the election of Henry Clay than of James K. Polk, we feel no doubt his impartiality between the two great parties—Therefore, we cannot any longer give him our support. We have also carefully considered the position and principles of the different candidates for the Presidency. We regard J. K Polk as the candidate of Southern Democracy, (so called), nominated as the pledged candidate of annexation. We have read his letters, and the resolutions passed by his friends in their public meetings, and are constrained to believe, with the editor of the New-York Evening Post, that the annexation of Texas means nothing more than the extension and perpetuation of slavery, at the risk of war. But on the contrary, we find Henry Clay and his supporters fully committed against the nefarious project,—he and they being pledged to go against annexation. Our doubts, that have heretofore existed, are fully removed by his last letter to the editors of the National Intelligencer. The conditions alone on which he would annex Texas can never occur, till these states forfeit all regard to national morality and honor. We, therefore, shall reserve our rights to give our votes to such candidates as we believe will keep out the annexation of Texas.

We have, therefore, concluded to make known these our views to our Liberty Party friends, through your paper, and to say to them, that we shall continue to use all our influence that we believe will lead to the abolition of slavery, and hoping the time will soon come when all in this country will enjoy all the rights of freemen, and thus a triumph of our principles be secured.—

Wm. J. M'Steele, George Pettengill,
Rufus S. Sargent, Gilbert Kimball,
E. G. Dresser, Abel Chase,
N. H. Johnson, E. S. Tozier,
William Hale, Daniel P. Ellis,
C. Woodward, Gilman Corning,
Nathan Caldwell, John Davis 3d,
John P. Heath, Philip Huntington

P. S. There are many others of the Liberty Party, who have not had an opportunity of signing this; will withdraw their votes from J. G. Birney.—Boston Courier.

Dragoon Campaign to the Nebraska.

A war-dance of Sioux Indians, composed of Three Squadrons of the 1st Dragoons, left Fort Leavenworth on the morning of the 18th of August, for the Pawnee and Sioux villages, near the Forks of the Nebraska. After confirming the relations of friendship existing between these tribes and the Government, and accomodating the difficulties between them and their neighbors, the Teton will return to their Post on Council Bluffs; visiting on their return route the Omahas, Pottawattamies, Otoes, Missouris Iowas, and Sacs and Foxes. The command will probably be out until late in the Autumn; and, owing to the unusual rains which have almost deluged the prairies during the past spring and summer, its difficulties will necessarily be of the most arduous character.

The officers of these squadrons (for a list of which we are indebted to the kindness of an attentive correspondent,) are as follows:—

Maj. Clifton Wharton, Commanding. Staff, Lieut. T. C. Hammond, Adjutant. Capt. W. M. D. McKissick, Quartermaster. Lieut. J. Henry Carleton, Commissary. Surgeon S. G. J. De-Camp, U. S. A.

Line. Captains of Squadrons. Captain Phil St. George Cooke. Captain B. D. Moore. Capt. J. H. K. Burgwin, Capt. Burdett A. Terrett.

Chiefs of platoon. Lieut. William Eustis. Lieut. Philip Kearney. Lieut. Andrew Jackson Smith. Lieut. John Love. Lieut. George T. Mason.

Chaplain, Rev. Leander Ker, U. S. A.

Mr Deas, the talented artist of the West, accompanied the Expedition. From his previous success in Western scenery, and in Indian likenesses, we expect some fine additions to his already beautiful collection.

Among the gallant officers attached to this expedition is one whose most popular correspondents. He writes us we shall hear something real accidental, when he gets back, a promise from which we anticipate much gratification for the readers of the "Spirit." Spirit of the Times.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune of Oct. 16, states that late advices from Mexico have been received. Quite the most important intelligence received is the release of the 104 remaining Texan prisoners confined in the Castle of Perote.

☞ The Whigs in New York are pushing ahead in all parts of the State with great zeal and animation. The cause must prosper under such labors.

A PACKAGE of papers was lost somewhere between the town of Patten and Bangor, between the 20th and 25th inst., containing a letter directed to James M Gibson, Bangor, a certificate from the Land Agent of this State for two lots of land in the town of Masardis given originally to John Robinson of Masardis, and other papers of no value to any person except the owner. Whoever may have found said papers and will give information to leave the same at the office of No 12, Dowe's New Block, Bangor, shall be suitably rewarded.—The letter above referred to was received through the Post Office last Sunday but no account of the other papers has been received.
